Introducing the New Hornet & Hornet LV

See the stinging CBCP (center beam candle power) and lumen output produced by this small scale luminaire with your own eyes. We guarantee that once you feel the sting of the Amerlux Hornet you'll require smelling salts rather than antihistamine. Consuming only 15 watts of power and delivering more than 800 lumens, there's nothing like it on the market today that can deliver the crisp, clean, powerful beam of light with precise color consistency and performance at only 15W.
